

A detailed architectural drawing of a building facade, oriented vertically. The drawing shows a large window with a grid pattern, a smaller window with horizontal lines, and a gabled roof structure. The drawing is a black and white line art illustration. The window has a grid pattern of vertical and horizontal lines. The smaller window has horizontal lines. The roof is a simple gable shape. The drawing is a technical illustration of a building facade.

[illegible]

This architectural drawing shows a vertical section of a building facade. The facade is composed of a textured material, possibly brick or stone, and is divided into several horizontal sections by thick, dark horizontal lines. Each section contains a window. The windows are rectangular and have a simple frame. The top section has a small window on the left and a larger one on the right. The second section has a single window on the left. The third section has a single window on the left. The fourth section has two windows stacked vertically on the left. The bottom section has a single window on the left. The right side of the drawing shows a vertical section of the building, also with a textured wall, and a horizontal line at the top.